

The Tar Heels were off to Omaha in 1960 for the first College World Series appearance in school history.
1867: The Tar Heels played their first recorded game, routing an all-star team from Raleigh, 34-17.

1891: Baseball returned to Carolina after 23 years and UNC was 1-2 against collegiate competition.

1921: Manly Lewellyn recorded 11 straight victories to lead the Tar Heels to the first of three consecutive state titles.

1932: Bunn Hearn returned to coach the Tar Heels, remaining as head coach for 15 seasons and compiling a 214-1332 record along the way.
. 1933. Carolina won the first of six Southern Conference titles in the Hearn era. Hearn's teams would also win a pair of Ration League titles in 1943 and 1945.

1934: The Tar Heels recorded the best winning percentage in school history as they were victorious in 21 of 23 games (.913).

1947: Walter Rabb took over the program after Hearn suffered a stroke. Hearn remained at Carolina for another 10 years, but Rabb is credited as being the head coach during that time.

1948: Kenny Black hit .337 and Vinnie DiLorenzo won nine games to lead Carolina to its first NCAA Tournament. The Tar Heels traveled to Kalamazoo, Mich., for the Eastern Regional where they defeated Illinois and lost to Yale and Lafayette.

1954: The Atlantic Coast Conference, formed in May 1953, conducted its first baseball championship season. The Tar Heels placed fifth with a 7-8 league record.

1957: Walter Rabb was officially named head coach, although he is credited for all wins and losses since 1947 when he, in effect, took over the program following Coach Hearn's stroke.

1960: Carolina went 22-7, won its first ACC title and advanced to its first-ever College World Series. The Tar Heels were defeated in the CWS by Minnesota and Oklahoma State.

1964: Walter Rabb was named ACC Coach of the Year after the Tar Heels posted a spotless 14-0 ACC record to win their second league title. All-America pitcher Bill Haywood was 10-1 and leading hitter Ken Willard hit 11 home runs with 40 RBI. No other team in ACC baseball history has ever been undefeated in conference play.

1966: Two-sport star Danny Talbott hit .395 to lead the Tar Heels to their second College World Series appearance. Charlie Carr led the team with a .397 average and relief ace George McRae was 4-0 with a 1.71 ERA.

1967: Garry Hill won all eight of his decisions and allowed just seven earned runs in 89 innings for a 0.70 ERA, the third-best single-season mark in ACC history.

1968: Dave Lemonds went $7-1$ with a 1.49 ERA and 96 strikeouts and was named National Player of the Year by The Sporting News.

1970: Eddie Hill, a first-team All-ACC first baseman in 1968 and 1969, was ACC Player of the Year, batting .357 and pitching his way to a 5-1 record and 1.07 ERA.

1972: Carolina played its first game at the new Boshamer Stadium on March 21, 1972, a 3-2 win over High Point in the season opener. Mike Roberts earned first-team AllACC honors for the third consecutive season.

1977: Walter Rabb retired as head coach following the season, ending a 31 -year career which produced a $540-358-9$ record, four ACC championships and two trips to the College World Series.

1978: Rookie coach Mike Roberts guided the Tar Heels to a 38-17 season and thirdplace finish at the College World Series. The Tar Heels won the South Regional at Auburn, Ala., and split four contests in Omaha, losing to eventual national champion Southern California 3-2. ACC Player of the Year Greg Norris was $14-2$ with a 1.75 ERA and 118 strikeouts and finished the regular season with a no-hitter vs. East Tennessee State.

1979: Jim Atkinson, an All-ACC selection in 1977 and 1978, hit .359 with 16 home runs and 52 RBI to earn ACC Player of the Year honors.

1980: Scott Bradley became the third Tar Heel in as many years to be named the ACC Player of the Year, batting . 386 with 10 homers and 63 RBI. Bradley hit .351 during his three-year career and was an All-America choice in 1980 and 1981. The Tar Heels won the ACC regular-season title for the first time since 1969.

1982: Pete Kumiega's suicide squeeze bunt scored the winning run in the 12 th inning of the ACC Tournament Championship Game, giving the Heels a 3-2 win over Virginia.

1983: Scott Bankhead won all nine of his decisions, and Carolina won 40 -plus games for the first time in history. The 42-10 Tar Heels placed six players on the All-ACC team and won the ACC Tournament for the second straight year.

1984: Scott Bankhead went 11-0 and struck out 124, and catcher B.J. Surhoff hit 400 with 27 extra-base hits and 53 RBI, in leading the Tar Heels to regular-season and tournament ACC titles. Carolina set a then-school record with 44 wins and Bankhead and Surhoff each earned first-team AllAmerica honors. Surhoff set single-season UNC standards with 98 base hits and 65 runs scored. Bankhead and Surhoff also competed on the U.S. Olympic baseball team. Bankhead was the 16th choice of the Kansas City Royals in the June amateur draft.

1985: B.J. Surhoff became the first and only Carolina player to be named first-team All-America in consecutive years following a .388 campaign in which he hit 14 homers and drove in 57 runs. Walt Weiss batted .351 and earned firstteam ACC honors. The Milwaukee Brewers selected B.J. Surhoff as the No. 1 pick in the draft. Walt Weiss was the 11th pick in the first round by Oakland.

1987: Outfielder Devy Bell set an ACC career record with 57 home runs.

1989: John Thoden won 12 games and Jesse Levis hit . 341 to lead the Tar Heels to a 41-18-1 record, ACC regular-season title and College World Series berth. Carolina defeated second-ranked Mississippi State twice on the Bulldogs' home field to win the South Regional championship. Thoden, a Baseball America third-team All-America selection, was 12-1 with a 2.45 ERA and earned MVP honors at the South Regional. Michael Hoog's complete game, 2-1 victory over MSU in the regional semifinals typified the entire season-terrific pitching and timely hitting. Mike Roberts was named the ACC and Atlantic Region Coach of the Year. Levis led the team in eight offensive categories, was a third-team All-America and was drafted in the fourth

The Tar Heels captured the first of three straight Atlantic Coast Conference titles in 1982.

1990: The Tar Heels won a school-record 51 games, captured the ACC regular season and tournament championships and entered the NCAA Tournament as the top seed at the Northeast Regional. Michael Hoog set UNC career records in wins (30), starts (60), innings (390) and strikeouts (289). Steve Estroff hit .389 with 15 home runs and 73 RBI and was a Baseball America second-team All-America, and shortstop Ron Maurer set a UNC record with a 31-game hitting streak. Jim Dougherty went 12-2 with a 1.71 ERA and Paul Shuey earned Freshman All-America honors with an 8-1 record and eight saves. Carolina set an ACC record March 3 by scoring 19 runs in the fifth inning in a 23-0 win over Seton Hall.

1992: Paul Shuey was the second overall pick in the draft when the Cleveland Indians selected him in the first round.

1993: Carolina won a then-school record 30 games at home, and advanced to the finals of the NCAA Central I Regional. Thad Chrismon tied for first in the nation with an ACC-record 18 saves and was named first-team AllAmerica by Collegiate Baseball. Chad Holbrook finished his career with UNC's highest career totals in hits, stolen bases, triples, games played and at bats.

1994: DH Cookie Massey was a second-team All-America selection by the NCBWA, the ABCA and Collegiate Baseball and named first-team All-ACC.

1995: Carolina earned a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament Atlantic II Regional in Coral Gables, Fla. Sean Murphy set a then-UNC record for strikeouts in a season with 125. Thad Chrismon received All-ACC honors for the third consecutive year. Chrismon finished his career leading both the ACC and UNC with 141 career appearances and 41 saves.

1996: First baseman Michael Stoner was named first-team All-ACC.

1997: Brian Roberts was named the national Freshman of the Year and set school records with a .427 batting average, 102 hits, 24 doubles and 47 stolen bases.

1998: Carolina reached the finals of the NCAA Tournament Atlantic I Regional before losing to No. 1-ranked Miami. Brian Roberts was named UNC's first ACC Player of the Year after batting .353 with 13 home runs, 49 RBI and 63 stolen bases, a total that led the nation. Jarrett Shearin joined Roberts on the first-team All-ACC squad after hitting .346 with 14 homers, 68 RBI and 28 steals. Derrick DePriest set a school record and led the ACC with 44 pitching appearances, going $7-3$ with a 3.15 ERA.

1999: Under new head coach Mike Fox, Carolina made its fifth NCAA Tournament appearance of the 1990s. UNC began the season with the best start in school history, 22-2, which included a Carolina-record 16-game winning streak. Carolina peaked at No. 3 in Baseball America's national rankings, also a Tar Heel record, during the strong start. The Heels were led by one of the nation's finest pitching staffs (team ERA of 3.73 ranked eighth nationally), including weekend starters Mike Bynum, Ryan Snare and Kyle Snyder, as well as reliever Derrick DePriest, who posted the nation's lowest ERA (1.71). Snyder and Bynum were both first-round draft picks in the Major League Baseball Draft. Jarrett Shearin finished his career ranked No. 1 in runs, doubles, RBI and hits in the UNC record book. Tyrell Godwin and Dan Moylan earned first-team All-ACC honors.

2000: One year after getting off to its best start in school history, Carolina eclipsed that with a UNC-record 21-game winning streak to open 2000. The Tar Heels went on to post a $46-17$ record, their third consecutive 40 -win season and the second most victories in school history. The Tar Heels peaked at an all-time-high No. 2 in the Collegiate Baseball and Baseball Weekly polls and earned their third consecutive NCAA Tournament berth. Adam Greenberg earned Freshman All-America honors and was named the ACC Rookie of the Year. Five Tar Heels were named either first-or second-team All-ACC, including Derrick DePriest and Tyrell Godwin, who were also both All-America selections. Seven Tar Heels were selected in the MLB Draft, including Godwin, who was a first-round supplemental pick of the Texas Rangers.

2001: UNC failed to win at least 40 games and earn an NCAA Tournament bid for the first time since 1997. Second baseman Russ Adams (first-team) and utility player Jason Howell (second-team) were named All-ACC. Adams was the first UNC second baseman to earn first-team AllACC honors since Roy Clark did so in 1979. Head coach Mike Fox earned his 100th win at Carolina on March 9, becoming the fastest Tar Heel coach to reach the 100 -win plateau.

2002: Carolina finished a record-setting 2002 season 43-21, 17-7 in the ACC, its highest league finish since 1990. Adam Greenberg and Chris Maples earned first-team AllACC honors. Maples established new single-season school records for extra-base hits (48), total bases (190) and at bats (274), while his 23 home runs and 24 doubles were each just one shy of matching school records. His 79 RBI were just two shy of the school record of 81 set in 1985. Greenberg became UNC's career leader with 17 triples. Maples, Greenberg and Russ Adams all earned All-America honors, marking just the second time in school history that three Tar Heels were so honored. As a team, the Tar Heels had a record-setting season at the plate, establishing new school records for batting average (.325), hits (752), doubles (153), home runs (108), runs (541), extra-base hits (279), total bases (1265), runs batted in (491) and slugging percentage (.546).

2003: The Tar Heels (42-23) swept to a win at the NCAA Starkville Regional for their first Regional title since 1989. Jeremy Cleveland had one of the finest seasons in school history, batting .410 and setting a school record with 103 hits. He earned first-team All-ACC and All-America honors. Seniors Sean Farrell and Chad Prosser wrapped their Carolina careers with second-team All-ACC honors, as did Ryan Blake. Prosser and Farrell ended the season ranked first and second in career hits at Carolina. On the mound, freshman Adam Kalkhof went 7-2 with a 4.26 ERA and earned Freshman All-America accolades. Head coach Mike Fox picked up his 200th win at UNC and led the Tar Heels to the NCAA Tournament and their fourth 40 -win season in his five years. The Tar Heels also tallied 753 hits as a team, eclipsing the school record set in 2002.

2004: Carolina went 43-21 and 14-10 in the ACC en route

Sean Farrell earned Regional MVP honors, as the Tar Heels captured the NCAA Starkville Regional in 2003.

Carolina capped a record-setting 2006 season with a runner-up finish at the College World Series.
to its third straight NCAA Tournament berth. The Tar Heels were once again sent to the NCAA Columbia Regional and reached the Regional final before falling to the host Gamecocks. Juniors Marshall Hubbard and Chris Iannetta each captured All-America honors, with Hubbard picking up first-team accolades from USA Today Sports Weekly. He also set a single-season school record with 83 RBI. Iannetta was a finalist for the Johnny Bench Award, presented annually to the nation's top catcher. Rookie hurlers Daniel Bard, Andrew Miller and Robert Woodard led the Tar Heels on the mound and earned 22 of the team's 43 wins. Bard $(8-4,3.88)$ was named ACC Freshman of the Year and both Bard and Miller $(6-3,2.93)$ were named to Baseball America's All-Freshman Team. Senior closer Michael Gross earned eight saves to lead the veteran bullpen.

2005: The Tar Heels went 41-19-1 and won a then-schoolrecord 32 games at Boshamer Stadium. Carolina reached its fourth straight NCAA Tournament and went 1-2 at the NCAA Gainesville Regional. The Tar Heel pitching staff, led by All-ACC picks Robert Woodard and Andrew Miller, posted an ERA of 3.17 for Carolina's lowest mark since 1990. Woodard led the ACC with a 2.11 ERA. A trio of freshmen - Chad Flack, Josh Horton and Seth Williams earned Louisville Slugger Freshman All-America honors, while Horton and Flack both earned all-conference accolades. Flack set a UNC rookie record with 15 home runs.

2006: Carolina enjoyed a breakthrough season under head coach Mike Fox with a school-record 54 victories and the Tar Heels' fifth trip to the College World Series and first since 1989. Carolina was led by Baseball America National Player of the Year and Roger Clemens Award Winner Andrew Miller, who was $13-2$ with a 2.48 ERA and a school-record 133 strikeouts. In the bullpen, senior Jonathan Hovis led the nation with a 1.17 ERA, and sophomore Andrew Carignan topped the ACC with 15 saves. First baseman Chad Flack and All-America shortstop Josh Horton, who won the ACC batting title, each broke the school record for single season hits. Catcher Tim Federowicz picked up freshman All-America honors and set a UNC rookie record with 62 RBI. The Tar Heels, who pounded out a school record 785 hits, won the ACC's Coastal Division with a $22-8$ record before winning the NCAA Chapel Hill Regional (the Tar Heels' first at home since 1983) and Tuscaloosa Super Regional en route to Omaha for the CWS.
